Dear clients,

We are glad to inform you that the company Leo Demetz Kunststoffverarbeitung GmbH is the new owner of Hinno AG. The result is the perfect synergy between high-tech and development!

The headquarters of Leo Demetz Kunststoffverarbeitung GmbH is in Austria and the company has more than 40 years' experience in the production of plastics and accessories development in the curtains domain.

The company Hinno AG, with 30 years' experience in the same domain, maintains its headquarters in Switzerland and is particularly reputed Clic and Stop brands also its innovative Japanese panel system.

This step will ensure for decades our best service to continue to deliver the best products of the best quality.

Through this acquisition, the product range of Leo Demetz Kunststoffverarbeitung GmbH has been extended by a valuable segment and the Hinno production within the company is assured. So production will be optimized and dependence on third reduced. Joint investments in the fields of development, machines / tools and automation are already being planned.

For you, dear clients, there will not be direct impact while the two companies continue to operate independently, addresses and contact person of course remain the same.

Looking forward of good partnership, and thank you for your trust.

Hinno AG
